Summary

DICA is a family-owned company dedicated to creating peace of mind through engineered solutions — outrigger pads, crane pads, ground protection, cribbing, and sling protectors. We don't just sell plastic, we deliver solutions that protect people, equipment, and worksites.

Our story began with Dick and Carolyn Koberg — the "DI" and "CA" in our name — whose values of hard work, excellence, and a win-win-win philosophy still guide us today. As Dick often said, "If it's worth doing, it's worth doing right." That belief in quality and long-term thinking remains at the heart of who we are.

Our value comes through our three uniques: application expertise, world-class products, and a win-win-win approach to business that ensures success for our customers, partners, and people. Guided by EOS and our core values — DICA Proud, Responsible, and Committed — I serve as CFO, bringing structure, clarity, and alignment across people, strategy, process, and financial resources. My role is to keep DICA focused on scaling with purpose, building long-term partnerships, and delivering the confidence that every setup will be safe and done right.
